From the Toyota camp, we've managed to catch up with the owner of another great dual-cab 100 tourer, yet this one packs a little more punch than standard with a supercharged V8 under the bonnet. Used as a daily driver and as the work truck, owner Paul was more than happy to show us how it handled off-road as well.

If Jeeps are your thing and you didn't get enough from our last DVD, then we've got more action from the 2008 Jeep Jamboree. This time we hit the 'Swamp Plug' trail with a group of A-Grade drivers and definitely weren't left wanting more. With monster lifted Wranglers, tough J10 trucks, some older CJs and bog-standard Willys, there's plenty of thrills to keep you glued to the screen.

Australian 4WD Action - it's like catching a white pointer with a hand line. So awesome, you wish your mates were there to watch it as well!

Milo is back, back from the dead and better than ever before. And what better way to run in her new engine than a trip from Brisbane all the way down to South Australia's Eyre Peninsula. Heading to some tough dunes in Coffin Bay and meeting up with the Summit Trax Club, Roothy and Milo assist with a number of beach recoveries, and then to test out everyone's stomachs, knocked up a good old seafood curry.

Roothy takes a look at a few different camping methods before getting Milo stuck, then gives a few beach driving tips before saying goodbye to the club and heading off into the sunset towards Port Lincoln.

Both hailing from up north, we've got two awesome custom trucks this time around. Starting with what appears to be just another old Patrol, this MG is an absolute masterpiece. Powered by a Lexus V8, it's a triumph of what can be done on a budget, and with a few interesting challenges in the way.
